Hello,

After hoping I had found the great solution to to adding a line and an ellipse to an jpg image, I was very disappointed seeing I could only save it as htm and not as the Original jpg file. Is this real or did I miss something?

Can you also tell me how I can blur some parts of a jpg file (screenshot)?

Best regards,

K. Ooms

Use the save link below the image to save as an image. If you are adding transparency though, it'll be in PNG format as jpg doesn't support transparency.
