I teach computer applications to 12 year olds. We have certain legal restrictions that prohibit them from opening an account with their e-mails or other identifying information. I would like them to use your site as a guest, but want to make sure that your website doesn't require students to be 13 years old.

Hi, Students don't need to register to use LunaPic, and there is no age restriction on use.

There is no account option on LunaPic for you to sign up with.

I'd suggest they not edit 'personal' photos, and not share online photos created.
